

Workshop

The Greek and the Arabic Galen. Aspects of Galenic Medical Thought and Teaching

Thursday, November 21, 2019

Hörsaal des Instituts für Orientalistik, Campus Uni Wien, Hof 4

6.30 pm Opening Lecture

Jawdath Jabbour (Paris, Istanbul)

Al-Fārābī's al-Radd 'alā Ḡālīnūs and the Upholding of "Aristotelian"
Cardiocentrism

Friday, November 22, 2019

Seminarraum Turcica, Institut für Orientalistik, Campus Uni Wien, Hof 4

9 am Project Presentations

Teun Tieleman (Utrecht); Ghadeh Bekir and Elvira Wakelnig (Vienna);
Raphaella Veit (Cologne); Jawdath Jabbour (Paris, Istanbul)

10 am Paper Session

Clarine Rijpstra-van Daal (Utrecht)

The Introduction of Galen's Ars Medica: A Good Teacher Explains His Method

Ruth Hammerschmied (Vienna)

An Insight into the Education and Examination of Physicians in Late Antiquity and Early Arabic Medicine

Julia Trompeter (Utrecht)

An Illness Called Anger. Affections, Symptom and Disease in Galen's
Medical and Ethical Thought

1 pm Lunch Break

3pm Paper Session

Robert Vinkesteyn (Utrecht)

The End of Summer. Black Bile in Galen

Juhan Björn (Lund)

Is Bleeding Good for You? An Insight into the Health Benefits of Bloodletting according to al-Rāzī

Raphaella Veit (Cologne)

Averroes Teaching Galen: Paraphrase and Commentary

Elvira Wakelnig (Vienna)

On the Prolegomena to Galen's De sectis in Arabic

The workshop is organised by The Galen Project (Utrecht)
and GAIA – Galen in Arabic
(Vienna – Aix-Marseille/Beirut)

universität wien

Der Wissenschaftsfonds.